

NAD+ INJECTION

$275/Month

WHAT IS NAD+?

NAD+ (Nicotinamide Adenine Dinucleotide) is a vital coenzyme found in all living cells, playing a major role in energy production, brain function, and cellular repair. As we age, NAD+ levels naturally decline—often contributing to fatigue, brain fog, and slower recovery. Our NAD+ injectable treatments help restore those levels, leaving you recharged, focused, and resilient.

IDEAL CANDIDATES

NAD+ is ideal for individuals ages 30–70, including:

- Busy professionals and parents running on empty
- Patients on GLP-1s experiencing fatigue
- Clients recovering from burnout or illness
- Fitness lovers & biohackers
- Anyone interested in prevention, anti-aging, and cellular health
- GLP-1 patients who are hitting a plateau

Not recommended for:

- Pregnant or breastfeeding women
- Individuals with active liver/kidney disease
- Clients undergoing treatment for any type of cancer
- Patients with allergies to niacinamide

BENEFITS OF NAD+ THERAPY

- Improved Mental Clarity & Focus
- Increased Energy & Metabolism
- Enhanced Mood & Stress Response
- Supports Detox & Cellular Repair
- Anti-Aging Support

BPC-157 CAPSULES

$160/Month

WHAT IS BPC-157?

BPC-157 (Body Protection Compound) is a regenerative peptide originally derived from protective proteins found in the stomach. This powerful compound promotes healing at a cellular level, accelerating recovery from injuries, supporting gut health, and reducing inflammation throughout the body. Whether you're dealing with joint pain, a recent surgery, or chronic inflammation, BPC-157 offers a non-invasive, science-backed path to faster healing.

IDEAL CANDIDATES

Perfect for clients ages 25–70+ who are:

- Recovering from injury, surgery, or physical therapy
- Experiencing chronic joint or tendon pain
- Dealing with gut issues like leaky gut, IBS, or post-antibiotic damage
- Avoiding long-term NSAID use or steroid injections
- Interested in peptide therapy for pain and repair

Not recommended for:

- Clients with active cancer
- Pregnant or breastfeeding individuals
- Clients with unmanaged autoimmune flare-ups (case-by-case basis)

BENEFITS OF BPC-157 THERAPY

- Speeds up recovery from injuries, surgeries, or overuse
- Reduces inflammation in joints, muscles, and connective tissue
- Supports gut lining repair and gut-brain health
- Enhances collagen synthesis and tissue regeneration
- May support nerve healing and cognitive clarity
- Non-stimulant, drug-free, and well tolerated

METHYLENE BLUE CAPSULES

$125/Month

WHAT IS METHYLENE BLUE?

Methylene Blue is a powerful nootropic and antioxidant compound with over a century of medical history. Originally used to treat infections and rare blood disorders, it's now gaining popularity as a modern-day tool for boosting brainpower, energy, and cellular repair. By enhancing mitochondrial function—the engine room of your cells—Methylene Blue can help optimize your mental clarity, mood, and physical resilience.

IDEAL CANDIDATES

Methylene Blue may be a great fit for adults ages 25–65+ who are:

- Looking to improve mental clarity, memory, or focus
- Recovering from fatigue, burnout, or brain fog (including post-viral or GLP-1 related)
- Exploring preventative longevity treatments
- High-performing professionals, creatives, or students
- Interested in a non-prescription solution to enhance mood or cognition

Not suitable for:

- Clients on SSRIs, SNRIs, or other serotonergic medications (unless cleared by a provider)
- Individuals with G6PD deficiency
- Pregnant or breastfeeding clients
- Anyone with a history of severe kidney conditions

BENEFITS OF METHYLENE BLUE

- Supports brain energy and neurotransmitter function, improving memory, focus, and mental clarity.
- Promotes a more balanced and positive mood.
- Improves mitochondrial efficiency and may help clear senescent cells to slow the signs of aging.
- Helps protect against cognitive decline. Also studied in Alzheimer's, Parkinson's, and post-brain injury cases.
- Helps neutralize harmful free radicals and calm inflammation in the body.
- Increased Physical Energy

MIC INJECTIONS

$225/Month

WHAT IS MIC?

MIC Injections—short for Methionine, Inositol, and Choline—are a targeted lipotropic treatment designed to support fat metabolism, liver detoxification, and metabolic health. Commonly referred to as “skinny shots,” these injections work by helping the body break down and process fat more efficiently, making them an ideal tool for individuals on a weight loss journey or anyone needing a metabolism boost. When combined with consistent lifestyle efforts like proper nutrition and movement, MIC can help amplify fat-burning, increase energy, and support detox.

IDEAL CANDIDATES

MIC is a great option for individuals ages 18–65 who are:

- Trying to enhance fat loss while dieting or on a weight loss medication
- Struggling with fatigue, sluggish metabolism, or low motivation
- Needing added support for liver detox (especially after GLP-1s or high-fat diets)
- Seeking help with workout recovery or improving body composition

Not ideal for:

- Individuals with active liver disease or advanced kidney conditions
- People allergic to sulfur-based compounds (methionine)
- Clients expecting “quick fixes” without healthy lifestyle support

BENEFITS OF MIC THERAPY

- Enhances fat metabolism, especially during active weight loss
- Supports liver health and natural detoxification pathways
- Boosts physical energy and mental clarity
- Non-stimulant based—no caffeine or crash
- May improve results for clients on GLP-1s or facing weight loss plateaus
- Effective support tool when paired with diet and exercise

B12 INJECTIONS

$150/Month

WHAT IS B12?

Vitamin B12 injections offer fast, reliable support for energy production, metabolism, and nervous system health. Delivered intramuscularly or subcutaneously, these injections bypass the digestive system, making them ideal for clients with absorption issues, dietary restrictions, or elevated stress levels. Whether you're feeling run-down, foggy, or just need a boost between IVs or during a weight loss program, B12 helps restore cellular vitality from the inside out.

IDEAL CANDIDATES

Vitamin B12 injections are great for clients ages 18–70+ who are:

- Experiencing low energy, fatigue, or brain fog
- Following vegan, vegetarian, or low-protein diets
- Taking medications like metformin, PPIs, or GLP-1s
- Dealing with anemia, poor nutrient absorption, or recovery from illness
- Active individuals, frequent travelers, or anyone needing a quick wellness reset

Not ideal for:

- Clients with a known cobalt allergy (extremely rare)
- Individuals with polycythemia vera or elevated hematocrit (requires monitoring)

BENEFITS OF B12 THERAPY

- Supports natural energy and reduces fatigue
- Enhances mood, focus, and cognitive performance
- Helps produce red blood cells to prevent anemia
- Supports fat and carbohydrate metabolism
- Bypasses digestion for fast and effective absorption
- A key player in detox and methylation pathways

SEMORELIN INJECTIONS

$225/Month

WHAT IS SEMORELIN?

Sermorelin is a physician-prescribed peptide therapy designed to stimulate your body's natural production of growth hormone (GH). Rather than replacing GH directly like synthetic HGH, Sermorelin acts as a gentle signal to your pituitary gland—helping it function like it used to. As GH levels naturally decline with age, many people begin experiencing fatigue, slower recovery, poor sleep, and muscle loss. Sermorelin offers a smarter, safer way to reverse these changes by supporting your body's own repair and regeneration processes.

IDEAL CANDIDATES

Sermorelin is best suited for individuals ages 35–65 who are experiencing:

- Fatigue, burnout, or low energy
- Brain fog or poor sleep quality
- Stubborn belly fat or age-related weight gain
- Muscle loss or longer recovery times after workouts
- Mood swings, low libido, or general hormone slowdown
- GLP-1 (Semaglutide) users who want better energy and recovery

Not ideal for:

- Patients with a current or recent history of cancer
- Individuals under age 21
- Pregnant or breastfeeding clients
- People with uncontrolled diabetes or pituitary disorders

BENEFITS OF SEMORELIN

- Stimulates natural GH release to restore vitality
- Enhances lean muscle mass and body composition
- Promotes deeper, more restorative sleep
- Improves mental clarity and day-to-day stamina
- Supports collagen production and healthy aging
- Assists with fat metabolism and recovery after exercise

GLUTATHIONE INJECTIONS

$275/Month

WHAT IS GLUTATHIONE?

Glutathione is your body's most powerful antioxidant—found in every cell and essential for detoxification, immune defense, and cellular repair. It neutralizes free radicals, clears out toxins, and supports the body in recovering from inflammation, illness, and environmental stressors. Glutathione levels decline with age, stress, poor diet, and illness—making replenishment critical for optimal health and longevity.

IDEAL CANDIDATES

Glutathione therapy is great for clients ages 25–70+ who are:

- Looking to detox from stress, alcohol, illness, or mold exposure
- Wanting to improve skin clarity and even tone
- Needing immune support during travel or seasonal changes
- Recovering from burnout, inflammation, or post-IV hydration therapy
- Exploring antioxidant therapy as part of a longevity or skincare plan

Not recommended for:

- Individuals with active asthma flare-ups
- Clients with known sulfa allergies (use case-by-case with provider)
- Pregnant or breastfeeding clients without medical clearance

BENEFITS OF GLUTATHIONE

- Enhances detoxification and liver function
- Supports immune health and recovery
- Improves skin clarity and brightness
- Reduces inflammation and oxidative stress
- May help with brain fog, fatigue, and aging markers
- Ideal for post-travel, post-illness, or skin and wellness maintenance

STELLA ANTI-AGING CREAM

$179/Month

WHAT IS STELLA?

Stella is an advanced, science-backed anti-aging topical treatment designed to rejuvenate and firm the skin. This formula blends powerful regenerative peptides with proven dermatological ingredients like tretinoin, estriol, and niacinamide to improve skin elasticity, reduce fine lines, and enhance overall skin texture. With consistent use, Stella supports collagen production and revitalizes the complexion—making it a standout option for anyone seeking a smoother, more youthful appearance.

KEY INGREDIENTS

- (0.3%)ESTRIOL: A gentle form of estrogen, estriol has been shown to enhance skin moisture, elasticity, and collagen production, helping to counteract the effects of aging.
- (3%)GHK-CU (COPPER PEPTIDE): GHK-Cu is a well-known copper peptide that has been shown to stimulate collagen production, supports skin regeneration, and improves skin elasticity.
- (4%)NIACINAMIDE (VITAMIN B3): Niacinamide helps strengthen the skin barrier, reduce inflammation, and improve elasticity. It also brightens skin tone and reduces hyperpigmentation.
- 0.01%)TRETINOIN: A powerful retinoid, tretinoin has been shown to accelerate skin cell turnover, smooths fine lines, and promotes collagen production. It improves skin texture and helps reduce the appearance of wrinkles, making it an essential element in anti-aging skincare.

BENEFITS OF STELLA

- Promotes collagen production for firmer, more resilient skin
- Smooths the appearance of fine lines and wrinkles
- Improves skin tone and texture
- Enhances hydration and elasticity
- Brightens and evens the complexion
- Rejuvenates dull or aging skin for a revitalized look
